Hallie,

Do you have any update on a letter to Prince George's County?

Harvey suggested Blue Plains off 295 as a potential market for steam/electricity. Just an idea.

Please let me know when you have a chance.

Enjoy the weekend,
John

Hello Hallie

The County is interested in this proposal including an organics composting location in PGC. We need to work out the details before we can go further. We need quantities to determine if our site can handle the combined amounts. We also have an issue created by the State of Maryland. It has changed the standards for organics recycling. Once we have a project, I will go to them to determine how much any regulatory requirements will cost and the see if we a possible deal.

Thanks, Dennis

Subject: Regional Waste Disposal System

Good Morning Hallie,

Attached is a letter of commitment from Department of Environmental Resources Director Samuel Wynkoop. Since he is out of the country, I have signed on his behalf. It's our intent to commit to working together to implement a regional solid waste management system. Also attached is a copy of the Executive Briefing – Project Overview, which has been modified as you suggested. We will use this document to brief our County Executive in early June. The current date for the meeting is June 12.

I have begun a project to explore the permitting requirements of the Maryland Department of the Environment for composting of food wastes. It would be hard for me to believe that we could not work this out with the state but I need to get a sense for how difficult it might be.

I think we have a great opportunity here. I hope that we are successful. BTW, if you need either of these documents in another format, let me know.

Mr. William O. Howland, Jr.
Director, Department of Public Works
District of Columbia

Dear Mr. Howland:

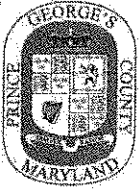

Prince George's County has been relying on County owned facilities for solid waste management: recycling, composting and landfilling for ultimate disposal. The County's landfill is projected to be filled in 2020 and as a result, the County is developing a business plan for its solid waste through 2050. We understand that the District of Columbia relies on others for their waste disposal and that the current arrangements will end in 2015. These timeframes result in both jurisdictions reviewing their long term solid waste plans in parallel.

Over the past several months, discussions between our respective staffs have resulted in a number of concepts by which the County and the District can work together to implement a state of the art regional solid waste management system, which will benefit the citizens of both jurisdictions, environmentally and economically. These include cooperation to increase recycling, increase the recovery and utilization of organic materials and generate electricity from the waste that cannot be recycled. I look forward to working with you to refine these concepts.

Should you have any questions or issues to discuss, please feel free to contact me at (301) 883-5812.

Sincerely,

Samuel E. Wynkoop, Jr.

Dear Mr. Wynkoop:

This is in response to your May 16, 2012 letter indicating your interest in Prince George's County working in cooperation with the District of Columbia to cooperatively advance our future solid waste management needs.

Since representatives of our offices met, the Department has been steadily sowing the seeds for an integrated solid waste management system that seeks to maximize resources for recycling and energy production. In these discussions we have emphasized the benefits of partnering with a neighboring jurisdiction as well as a private sector partner.

We recently met with our City Administrator to formally gauge the Executive's interest in pursuing this project, and I am pleased to say that that he instructed us to proceed forward. Accordingly, I will have Ms. Hallie Clemm of my staff reach out to Mr. Bigley and his staff to continue these discussions. We are excited about the prospect of forging a partnership with Prince George's County.

Sincerely,

Good morning Dennis...are you able to schedule a meeting to continue this discussion either this week or next? Let me know what works well for you and your staff.

Thanks Hallie. That's very encouraging. We can talk next week.

Good afternoon Dennis...It took us some time, but we got the okay to continue speaking with you and your staff. Attached is a letter to your director that will go in the mail today.

Since this week is all about WasteCon, can we speak early next week to map out a course on how to proceed? With any luck, we will see each other this week as well.
